Hornet Fights For Place At "Water Hole"

Histories of the Old West tell of some pretty bitter battles for possession of a water hole. Sometimes the conflict was between men; sometimes between animals.

Some may be inclined to pooh-pooh such tales but not Vic Eisenbrandt, utility man for the Frankfort sewer and water department.

Mr. Eisenbrandt had occasion the other day to check a hydrant. There was a trickle of water coming from the coupling opening. There was water on the street which indicated that more than a trickle had flowed not long before.

He did not stop to ascertain if there was life about the scene. Thinking perhaps that the valve might be involved Eisenbrandt gave it a quick turn to open it up and an equally quick turn to close it.

He stepped back, and then it was he found he was not alone. He got just a glimpse of something hurtling toward him as a supersonic pace and the next moment Mr. Eisenbrandt rocked back on his heels.

It was a hornet. Apparently the creature had settled down to sip a drink from the trickle and was more than a little put out when the trickle became a gushing stream, and then nothing.

Had Mr. Eisenbrandt noticed that the hornet was getting a drink he would have waited until it had finished. Terrible tempered creatures, hornets. Mr. Eisenbrandt's cheek still pained five hours later.

The good old days were when the moon was just something the cow jumped over.

Annual Will County 4-H Fair To Open Aug. 3

The annual Will county 4-H fair, featuring displays of livestock, garden produce and handicraft, will open next Thursday, Aug. 3 and continue thru Friday, at the Fred E. Francis grounds on Francis road, New Lenox township. This will be the second year that the event has been held on the 4-H clubs own grounds.

The grounds were donated to the 4-H'ers by the late Fred E. Francis, New Lenox supervisor and farmer, who was one of the original supporters of the 4-H movement in Will county.

The South Cook County 4-H clubs will hold their annual fair on the Fred E. Francis grounds on Saturday, Aug. 5, it was announced by William Whiteside, assistant Cook county farm advisor. The hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A. A. Wicklein, Will county farm advisor, will serve as superintendent of the Will county 4-H fair.

There will be 40 4-H groups participating in the Will county fair. The number of individuals who will have entries is approximately 900.

This will make for a big fair, Wicklein pointed out, and it is expected the event will attract thousands of spectators. There is no admission charge. Food and soft drinks will be sold on the grounds.

Judging of dairy cattle, hogs, chickens and rabbits will take place on Thursday, Aug. 3, beginning at 9 a.m. and continuing until 5 p.m.

Judging of beef cattle, sheep, goats, garden produce, photography and handicraft is to take place the next day, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Two other events are scheduled for Thursday. There will be a dog show with judging to take place at 6:30, and a horse show. Judging in the horse show is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

Eventually a large building is to be erected just north of Francis road. There is a large barn that was rushed to completion in time for the show last year and there is a riding ring which also serves as a parade ring for the livestock.

The 4-H clubs are earning money in various ways to improve the grounds. In former years the 4-H fair was held on the Peotone fairgrounds. There are few areas where 4-H groups have their own fairgrounds and the Will county youngsters are quite proud of their possession.

Some very fine stock is shown at these 4-H exhibitions and animals that win awards are generally shown at the county and state fairs held later next month.

Mokena Hires Firm To Number Homes, Adopt Appropriations

A system for numbering homes and business places as a requisite for door delivery of mail was discussed at the meeting of the Mokena village board last week.

The board also adopted its annual appropriation ordinance and let contracts for street repairs.

The appropriation ordinance provides for total expenditures of $72,671.25, which are divided into two broad classifications, general expenses and maintenance and operation of the water and sewer system.

On the general expense side of the ledger the total amount appropriated was $40,421.25; for sewer and water, $32,250. The amount to be raised thru taxation is $21,361; from other sources $19,060. The estimated amount of motor fuel tax anticipated is $7,300.

It was pointed out by Village Attorney Raymond Hoolehan that the appropriation of funds does not mean that that much will be spent but rather provides that it can be spent if available. The ordinance is published in detail on another page in this issue. The 1961-62 appropriations are approximately $3,600 higher than those of last year, which were $69,073.75.

The Loring Co., of Joliet, was the low bidder on street repairs, with a figure of $1,540. Two other bids were received, one for $1,610 from Crown Rock Asphalt Co. and one for $1,630 from Trygg Paving Co., both also from Joliet.

Oil and chips are to be supplied to the following streets, starting at Wolf road; Second st., to Division; Third st. to Division; Reverse rd. to Union and Walsh lane to Third st.

Repairs on other streets will be done by village employees. Mulford Engineering Service of Chicago Heights was retained by the village to renumber the homes and business places. The present numbering system is inadequate and confusing, it was pointed out.

The new system will make use of the Chicago street numbering system, the board decided so that in the event of future expansion thru annexation there would be no confusion. There will be no local dividing lines. For example Wolf road is 112 west so homes in the block immediately west could carry the numbers 11200, 11201 etc, while those in the block immediately east would be 11100, 11101 etc. North and south streets will carry the Chicago numbers, like 18900 --19400 etc.

Residents will be notified as to their new numbers when the job is completed, around Sept. 1, it was said. There will be no change in street names, the board decided.

After the houses and business places are numbered and the postoffice supplied with the addresses the machinery can be put in motion to bring about home delivery of mail. Each home will be required to have a mail box or a mail slot.

The Mokena Lions club has been granted permission by the village board to sell house numbers when the change is made.

Frankfort Homecoming Gets Underway Tonight

The concert is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friedman has charge of the school bands at Mokena and Frankfort.

The homecoming program will be held in Frankfort community park. There will be several carnival attractions including a ride said to be new in this area -- "Corral."

The annual Amateur Softball Association, (Dist. 5) tournament will be run off in conjunction with the homecoming, beginning tonight the games will begin each evening at 8:30 o'clock. Winners will compete in the Metropolitan tournament at Chicago. Teams participating at Frankfort will be Bob and Clara's of Chicago Heights; Cook County Merchants, also of the Heights; Matteson Sportsmen, Monee Sportsmen, Manhattan Shadows, Downers Grove Merchants and Frankfort Legion.

Music for the parade will be furnished by the Frankfort grade school band. The Boy Scouts, Brownies and 4-H girls of Frankfort will march.

Daniel Hecht and Charles Schults are co-chairman of the homecoming.

The rides and games will start at 6 p.m. tonight and tomorrow and at 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Spark Sets

Off Gasoline:

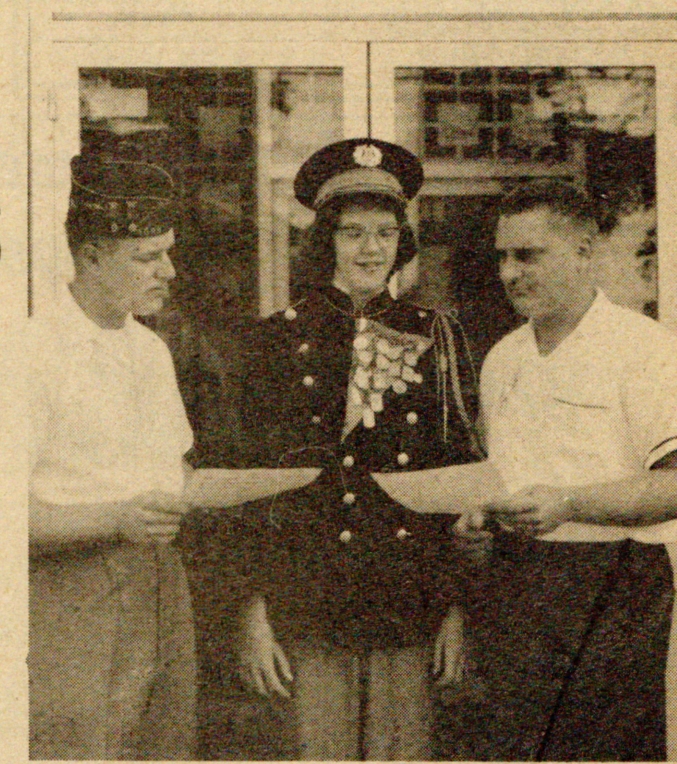

Youth Burned

Paul Dishman, 19, who resides at the J. C. Knight residence in Frankfort, was severely burned last week while trying to start his car at the Leonard Pearson garage, Routes 45 and 30.

Larry Hobson, who was assisting him, stepped on the starter as Dishman poured gasoline into the carburetor. An explosion occurred.

As Dishman jumped back, he spilled the remainder of the gasoline over himself, and became engulfed in flames. Bystanders ripped the clothing from his body and he was taken to Hedges clinic in Frankfort for emergency treatment.

He was removed to Silver Cross hospital by ambulance. Dishman is suffering from severe burns about his chest, back, face, hands and shoulders.

New Lenox Grade School Board Hires 2 Teachers

Two contracts were let and two new teachers were hired when the New Lenox grade school board met Monday night at Oakview school.

The meeting had been postponed from the previous week due to a lack of a quorum.

Russell LaSanksa of New Lenox was the low bidder on a contract to install the sewer lines to Oakview school. His bid was $1,123.25. There were five bidders on the job.

A five foot sidewalk will be installed from the main entrance of Oakview school to Cedar road, and around the new addition to the fire escape. Low bidder on this project was Robert McElfresh with a figure of $1,172.

Hired to teach this fall at Oakview were Miss Dolores Branchaw and Mrs. Mary Louise Flory. Miss Branchaw, a graduate of St. Francis college, has had one year experience and will teach first grade. Mrs. Flory will teach fifth grade.

Only other business on the agenda was the board studying the progress of the work on the gymnasium. Contractors have promised that the project will be completed when schools opens in September.

Can Enroll For Kindergarten

Members of the day kindergarten of the Orland Park Methodist church announce that they will sponsor the class this year, as they have in the past, if fifteen or more parents contact the church by the end of July.

Those wishing to register their children are asked to contact Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Haines, FI 9-8018.

NEW HOURS AT ORLAND LIBRARY

The Orland Park Public Library announces a new schedule of hours for the public beginning Aug. 1, as follows: Tuesday and Thursday, 2 to 5 p.m., Fridays 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The library will be able to offer better service to the community with the additional evening hours on Fridays and a full day on Saturdays.

Ann Rutledge School Bond Election Aug. 19

Voters of Ann Rutledge school district No. 56-C, will go to the polls Saturday, Aug. 19, to ballot on a proposed $69,000 building bond issue.

Like other schools in the area the enrollment at Ann Rutledge has outgrown the school plant. Not only are some additional rooms required but the present toilet facilities are quite inadequate, it was reported.

The proposed addition to the school would supplement the present frame portion and thus eliminate a fire hazard, according to John Van Donk, president of the board of education. Seven years ago an addition was built to the school. It is of concrete block construction. The frame portion, which was the original school, meets only the minimum of state and Frankfort fire district code requirements, Mr. Van Donk stated.

To meet the needs of the district the board has been studying plans and suggestions for many months. At a special meeting in mid-May with County Superintendent Verne E. Cracel, the possibility of a consolidation with adjoining districts for an upper grade center was discussed in considerable detail. Such a plan is not feasible now, the board decided, and at a later meeting agreed that the present answer to the problem is an addition.

William Scheidemantel, of Downers Grove, has been retained as architect and A. H. Krusemark, Frankfort, is serving the district as attorney.

Preliminary plans for the $69,000 construction program provide for two new primary rooms, remodeling of the two oldest rooms and of course the addition of sanitation facilities.

A new roof is included in the plan and the entire building would become a brick veneered structure. The entire program, it was pointed out, would reduce fire danger.

A canvass was made of the district last April and it was found that Ann Rutledge could expect 28 new beginner pupils next September. This estimate became a fact in May after registration of beginning pupils for next year.

The board is hopeful of success for the bond issue. The residents of Lincoln Estates have always supported school issues, whether high school or elementary, and observers believe the proposed $69,000 building bond issue will be approved.

If the issue is approved the plans will be ready almost immediately afterwards, it was said, so bids can be taken and work started on the program in September. Much of the outdoor construction still could be done in October and November, Board President Van Donk declared.

A voter need not be registered to cast a ballot in a school election but he is required to sign an affidavit that he is a citizen and meets the qualifications set forth in the Illinois election law -- a resident of the state for a year, of the county 90 days and the precinct 30 days. The school will serve as a polling place and voting hours will be from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

OPEN BIDS on grading and building base course on Smith and E. Bowen streets at Frankfort. Smith street will be worked on between W. Bowen and Elwood; the work on E. Bowen is to extend from White st. to village limits. The men opening the bids-- at the Frankfort village hall Monday afternoon-- are from the state district engineer's office at Elgin. Left to right they are, C. H. Wells,

J. P. Roberts and H. H. Renwick. Two bids were received and the apparent low one was that of Crown Rock Asphalt, $3,790.20. The other bid, submitted by Guildenzoph Co., New Lenox, was $3,804.30. According to Village Engineer Robert Hamilton the bids are approximately 20% under the estimates. It is expected that the contract will be awarded when the village board meets next Monday night.

Homer Re-Elect Local Woman As Guard At MCL Convention

Tel. TE 8-4846

The Wayside Workers' Circle of King's Daughters will meet on Aug. 3 at 1 o'clock. Hostesses will be Mrs. Henry Rodgers and Mrs. John White. Place of meeting will be announced later. The recipe books sponsored by the Circle are being distributed and some will be available at this meeting.

Aug. 2 is the date of sale of used books at Homer Community School. Mrs. Vern Bond is in charge of the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Benck are the parents of a son born July 18 at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md. He has been named Eric Carl. His father is stationed with the Army at Baltimore, and his mother, formerly Carol Carlson of Joliet, has been employed as a nurse at Johns Hopkins. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Benck of Hadley Rd., Homer twp., and Mrs. Ella Carlson of Joliet.

Mrs. Owen Ott of 159th St. and her daughter, Mrs. Alfred D. Boyd Jr., of Lockport, were recent hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the Ott home in honor of Miss Gloria Jean Miller whose wedding to Jack O. Wheeler of Alden, Mich., occurred July 22 at Lockport Congregational Church.

The Otto Michaelson family of Rte. 7 recently flew to Germany to attend the funeral of Mr. Michaelson's mother. Melvin Elliott of Joliet reported to county police that tools and building materials had been stolen last Friday night, from a house he is building on Rte. 7 west of Gougar Rd.

Charles White of 151st St. who recently celebrated his 90th birthday, is seriously ill at his home.

Henry Rodgers is suffering with a troublesome attack of shingles.

Mrs. H. V. Drewes of Lockport and Mrs. Ira Anderson were visitors at Community Center Foundation, Palos Park, last Saturday, where they enjoyed a gab-fest with several other friends who lived at the Foundation when they did, about 20 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Burns moved their house trailer from Lockport to the dooryard of Mrs. Reed Burch's home this past week, and are residing there.

Mrs. Earl Burnworth, of Breezy Hill Farm, Bruce Rd., and Miss Muriel Jacobsen of Lemont, returned Sunday from the 17th annual State Convention of the Marine Corp League, tired but happy, after five strenuous days at the Leland Hotel in Springfield where the meetings were held.

Miss Jacobsen refused to accept the nomination for First District president which was offered her, but was re-elected to the office of Department Guard which she has held for the past year.

Mrs. Burnworth who was offered the nomination of first vice-president of the League, also refused, as this office would automatically place her in the running for the presidency next year, for which she feels she doesn't have the experience or time required for traveling to the meetings of the 17 units in the state, for installations, etc. The Joliet Memorial unit, one of the smallest in the state, with a membership of 23, was accredited with over 5,000 hours of welfare work which includes aid to veterans, veterans' widows, family and hospital work, from Jan. 1 to June 1. Also included is child welfare work, such as 4-H, Bible School, Mothers' clubs, Boy and Girl Scout leadership, and PTA work; help in cancer, polio, crippled children's, and Multiple Sclerosis drives; free baby-sitting and nursing of veterans' children, aid to needy veterans' families, visiting veterans in Veterans Administration hospitals and furnishing cigarettes and entertainment for hospitalized vets.

On Sunday, Mrs. Burnworth, as State Chaplain, gave the opening and closing prayer of the first State Staff meeting. The local units publicity book again won second place and will be taken to the National Convention in August, which will be held in Atlanta, Ga. Mrs. Estella Metzger of Lockport is the publicity chairman in charge of the book. Her book has been, for the fourth year, adjudged the neatest in the convention, which is one of the points for judging, others being the amount of newspaper publicity and pictures containing Auxiliary news.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Burnworth won second prize for the most authentic costume at the Hawaiian Luau sponsored by the group.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Loucks Sr., of E. Seventh St., are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Norma JoAnn, to Clifford Gaines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Gaines of Lockport. The wedding will take place the afternoon of Sept. 23 at 2 o'clock at the Zion Lutheran Church of Lockport with the Rev. H. M. Finley officiating. Friends and relatives are invited to attend the ceremony and the reception which will follow in the church parlors.

Miss Loucks is a graduate of Peotone High School, while the future bridegroom graduated from Lockport High and attended the University of Illinois. He has served three years with the Army in Germany. Both young people are presently employed at Argonne National Laboratory.

Guests in the George Burcham home during the past weekend included Mr. and Mrs. William Ericson of Valdeese, N. C., James Burcham of Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Burcham and four children of Decatur.

Larry Burnworth of Breezy Hill Farm thinks his pony, "Champ's Champion," which he recently purchased at an auction sale at Attica, Ind., may be aptly named, since in his third showing on June 27 at Danville, he placed second in his class; on Tuesday night, July 18, he won third in the roadster class and second in the hitch class at Bismarck. He is shown by a trainer and expects to appear at the Illinois State Fair at Springfield on Aug. 11 and 12. On Friday night of this week he will appear at Paris, Ill., and on Saturday at Tuscola. Action Needed Now On Space Communications Whether the United States is to continue as world leader in space communications will depend upon the recently formed National Aeronautics and Space Council of which Vice President Johnson is chairman.

President Kennedy has asked this committee to decide whether space communications should be left in private hands or taken over by the government.

As of now the U.S. is ahead of Russia in the art of communication, thanks to the efforts of private enterprise, especially the effort expended by the Bell telephone system and its associated enterprises.

These private firms are prepared to develop the first active satellite communications system to augment and expand present overseas communication and at their own expense.

Government operation of business has been on the disastrous side in the past and there is no reason to believe it will do any better in the future. We fear that if the government elects to take over the development of satellite communications the program will be set back many years and Russia will forge ahead.

Legally the FCC (federal communications commission) is authorized to decide the satellite communications question and the chairman, Newton N. Minow has said he favors that the program be turned over to private firms who are most experienced.

He is referring to the so-called common carriers, made up of the Bell System, International Tel. and Tel. RCA, Press Wireless, etc.

The FCC has delayed action because of objections from some of the non-regulated suppliers and equipment makers to the FCC decision. This decision was that it would be to the best interests of the United States in particular and the world in general if the international common carriers were to operate the satellite communications system.

Now that this National Aeronautics and Space Council has been set up it could be that the government will decide to take over the satellite communications program and wind up under government ownership. The military appear to favor this.

Why the military should favor a socialistic trend rather than free enterprise is difficult to understand but there it is. Putting the government in the communications business is bad business. It is another step toward censorship and government by bureaus.

"The Bell System's proposal to the FC covers a joint venture of the International Common Carriers with ownership of a satellite communications system be apportioned according to use," a telephone company spokesman declares. "Bell has proposed that the FCC be given full authority to see that all could use the satellite system on a non-discriminatory basis and without competitive advantage to any single carrier. No one company should or would dominate."

These firms are ready to put up the money to put up the satellites.

"The taxpayer can get a return on his investment in space without having another bureau set up to build and operate a satellite system," the Bell spokesman continued. We're ready to go now. We can have an experiment under way early next year, move quickly into a commercial system.

"By 1964--if we can get going now--the system should be operating. The taxpayer will get his return in three ways (1) better overseas service at lower rates; (2) taxes from a commercial system, and (3) no tax money needed to subsidize this development."

What is needed now is for the Administration to give the FCC the greenlight that it may order the International Carriers to go ahead with the job.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Completion of Interstate Highway 80 thru the area will accomplish a number of things. It will put quite a nick in the tax receipts; be an economic disaster to scores of Joliet residents whose homes will be taken to provide right-of-way and grade separations in that community; depreciate adjacent property. It will, however, provide a dandy track for drag racing.

Drag racing is about the only use the highway may have for area residents. These interstate highways are great for travelers going long distances because without cross roads or traffic lights one is able to whisk thru cities and villages at maximum state limits. In Illinois it is 70 miles an hour and while it may seem silly for a local drive to join this fast company in order to traverse a few blocks, just think how thrilling it would be to find out whether you can do it and stay out of the hospital.

You go zooming up a ramp at 40 or 50 miles an hour to merge with traffic that may be doing 70 miles an hour -- or say 80 or better if they are revving up to pass some tail-gating trucks--to go a few blocks and then come zooming down a ramp at 50 miles an hour to merge with residential or business street traffic that may be moving 25.

It could be a nice test of dispositions as well as brakes. Not to speak of reflexes, coordination et cetera, et cetera.

It is possible that the federal and state governments building this highway have designed it so it will make more political jobs. An ambulance service could be set up and at every entry and exit in the cities men would be stationed with flags.

You know, give a driver coming up a ramp the green flag to begin racing, and the checkered flag at the end of the course. In the event of a big pileup on a ramp the yellow flag calling for caution and telling drivers to hold their positions could be displayed to advantage.

Some persons might be killed, you say? Forget it--they are just people.

After all, this switch in plans to get I-80 shunted thru Joliet is a great victory for the Association of Commerce of that community. You see some years back one of the objectives of the Joliet Association of Commerce from time to time was to promote a high level bridge across the waterway. The thought back of this was that in the event all of the lift bridges in town were open vehicular traffic--especially emergency vehicles--could use the high level bridge. Whether it would be practical is beside the point.

Getting on such a bridge from the west side of the waterway would not be such a problem because of the height of the land; getting on from the east end might be quite a safari.

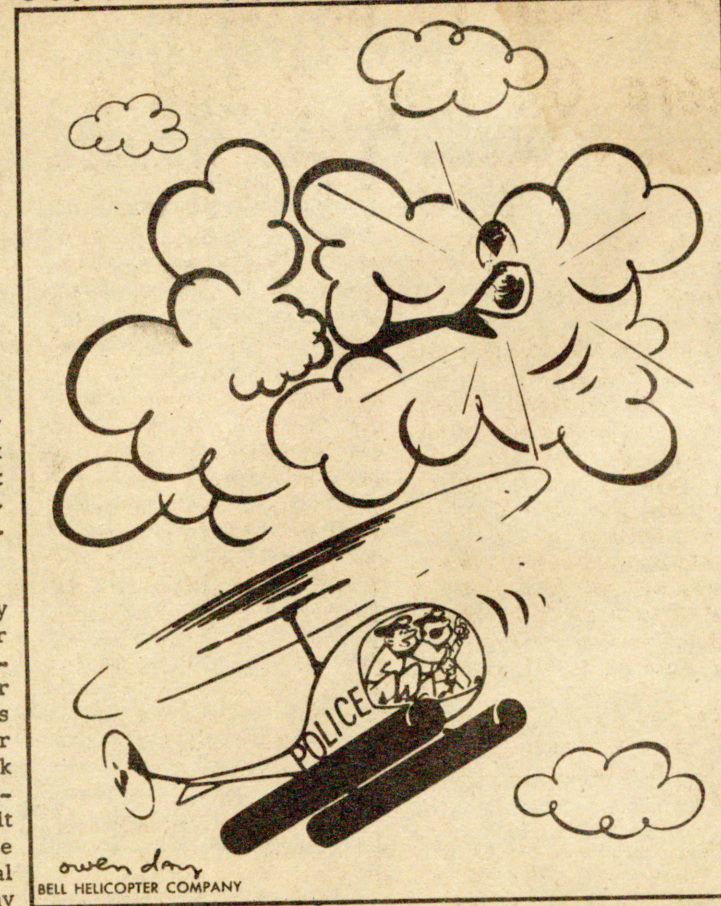

The property owners affected by the plan to take the highway thru Joliet are complaining that the compensation offered by the state is unrealistic. Some of these people are existing on pensions and not in a position to make loans to purchase new homes. They point out that they have been told to expect that the most they can realize from the state in full payment for their homes is six to eight thousand dollars.

It is possible they can purchase another home for that amount but then maybe they wouldn't want to live in the southern hill country, Mexico or a desert shack.

There just aren't many of those six or eight thousand dollar homes left anymore--not in this area anyway. What is to become of some of these persons who will lose their homes in a question that probably will be answered by the highway project is these words--or some reasonable facsimile: "That is their problem."

Giving a person $6,000 or $8,000 today and telling him to chase another home for that amount but then maybe they wouldn't want to live in the southern hill country, Mexico or a desert shack.

These interstate highways aren't much for local traffic but if one wants to watch a city whizz by they are a great thing.

One of the reasons given why I-80 should go thru Joliet is that it will relieve the streets there of some thru traffic, especially trucks.

On the other hand if the highway by-passed the city the same results would be accomplished. -- and cheaper too!

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The stock market during past several weeks has been drifting downward somewhat on very small volume. It is very evident that there is little pressure to sell and buyers have been awaiting what they consider bargains.

Many felt the situation as to Berlin and the Communist threats, were having a depressing effect on the market.

Several recent authoritative comments on the Berlin situation and on conditions in the world generally, have expressed disbelief that the Russians will go as far as can go as far as the threats indicate. We will likely hear Russian threats for years to come as we have in the past.

The U. S. News and World Report reports that its foreign editors believe the Russians have been having difficulties at home of a political nature between various groups. It is evident the present power is that of a group rather than personal as under Stalin. The magazine article analyses economic conditions in the Russian captive nations and expresses belief that Russia would have a most difficult time with any concerted and firm opposition from western Europe and ourselves. The article, however, warns we must always deal from strength with Russia.

The investment attitude of some of the men who control large investment funds, seems to indicate a feeling that our national business health is good and that there are bargains in the market. Last Thursday the chief of research and investment supervision, of about $700 millions of Mutual Funds, reported that they are now in a fully invested position.

This gentleman reported that economists of funds under their direction look for corporate profits in the final quarter to be running at a $48 billion rate vs $40.7 billions in the same period last year.

He stated that if business is going to improve, the cyclical stocks are more attractive. On this basis, his group has been increasing its holdings in rubber shares, chemicals, and selected steels such as Jones & Laughlin and U. S. Steel which have been making substantial improvements in their operating efficiency. He also reported increases in holdings of defense and space firms.

Most of gains in first half were concentrated in autos and steels, but as we enter the second half, strength is developing in other sections of the economy and the rate of increase in steel and autos has slowed a little. Other industries such as chemicals, rubber, electrical equipment and machinery, are providing a steady and total output is expected to reach new records.

One leading investment group expresses belief corporate profits are likely to fall a bit shy of 1960's $22.8 billion -- as much as 5 per cent below -- but that trend will be steadily upward. They express belief the last quarter will show profits about 20 per cent above the first quarter and final quarter about 10 per cent above same period of 1960.

The outlook seems to be optimistic and business cycle in an expanding phase.

Hints For Homeowners

By: JAMES FIZZELL, ASST. FARM ADVISER

Flower gardeners who have some particularly nice flower plants this summer may want to collect seed for planting next spring. But first a word of caution: There are several reasons why it may be unwise for you to collect your own seed. Perhaps the most important reason is that some of the better flowers today, such as petunias, are F-1 hybrids. These hybrids are the result of crossing one inbred strain with another strain to produce flowers of a specific color and type. But seed produced by these hybrids gives a mixture of colors and types. The same is true of F-2 hybrids.

Another reason is that bees and wind cross-pollinate flowers. Seeds of these crosses also produces an unpredictable mixture of colors and growth habits.

So, if you prefer flowers of a specific color and type, it's better to buy commercial seed. However, if you have a single variety, such as a marigold, with no other similar varieties near by, it will not have a chance to cross-pollinate and will produce flowers that are true to type.

If you decide to collect your own seed, wait until the pods are dry and beginning to split. Mature seeds are usually dark-coated, large and firm.

Once the seed is out of the pod, spread it out thinly in an open pan, and let it air-dry for several weeks in a warm, dry room. Then, after it is thoroughly dried, put it into labeled envelopes and store in a sealed jar or pickle jar.

Store the jar in a cool, dry area, such as a basement room or in the refrigerator. Satisfactory temperatures for seed storage range from 35 degrees to 50 degrees F., and the lower the humidity, the better. Since certain seeds lose their viability within a year or so, do not store seed for prolonged periods.

Before planting the seeds next spring, it will be a good idea to test them to see how they will germinate. Do this by placing a certain number of seeds between two sheets of blotting paper. Keep the paper constantly moist and at a temperature of 65 degrees to 75 degrees F. To prevent the blotting paper from drying out too quickly, put in a covered baking dish or in a pie tin covered with cellophane or tinfoil.

If the seed you test does not germinate 100 percent, just sow it a little more thickly than usual. But if the germination rate is very low, discard the stored seed and buy new seed. Breeding flower plants can be an interesting hobby. A free booklet on "Plant Breeding" is available on request from your University of Illinois Extension Service office, 6657 South St., Tinley Park, Ill.

Princeton University's salutatorian oration at commencement is traditionally delivered in Latin; translations are thoughtfully provided for the guests.

STUDY DRAMA -- four of the 22 talented high school students attending the 11th annual U. of I. Summer Youth Theater for intensive study and rehearsal. The young man here is Dennis Porick, of Mokena, a student at Lincoln-Way high school, and the fact that he is driving a nail without hitting a finger while surrounded by such distractions that fill in the rest of the picture speaks well for the training. The girl with the paint brush is Shirley Robson, of Warren high, and at the right rear is Adelaide Bianchi, of Ottawa High School. In the foreground is Rose Anne Tanner, St. Mary's Academy, Nauvoo. (U. of I. Photo)

Refreshments will be served by the members of the Band Boosters following the concert.

Mrs. Lydia Ryan returned Saturday from a two-week visit with her niece, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mapes and family at Annawan. Mr. Mapes is head principal at the Gompers junior high school, east side of Joliet. The Mapes have purchased this 160 acre farm where they have just completed a new modern home and expect to live there after his retirement. Mrs. Ryan enjoyed her visit on the farm, especially the harvest of the large raspberries and other fruit.

Mrs. Florence Pitman is recuperating in her home, following surgery recently in a Chicago hospital. Her two young granddaughters, Denise Melling, Miami, Fla., and Susan Piper, Grant Park, are helping her to recuperate by keeping house.

Ruths Beat Parks, 12-10
But Lose To Manteno

The New Lenox Babe Ruths divided its first two games in the second half of the Tri-County League season. The New Lenox lads, coached by Ron Larsen of the Lincoln-Way high school athletic staff, lost the second round opener to Manteno 3 to 2 and then edged out Grant Park 12 to 10 after a shaky start.

The Manteno game was a well played contest. The only trouble as far as New Lenox was concerned was that Larsen's charges couldn't get their hits bunched.

Manteno scored one run in the second, one in the fourth and one in the sixth. New Lenox got its two runs in the last of the seventh. Ray Yost got an infield single. Rich Brooks, pinch hitting, fanned. Wayne Fuchs singled to left and Arnold Blaylock popped for the second out. John Lord doubled to score Yost and Fuchs. Jeff Urban fled to left to end the rally.

Howard Grimes, playing right field for New Lenox, robbed Manteno of two runs in the second inning when after a run and a long dive he caught a line shot for the third out. It was one of the finest catches of the season.

In the Grant Park game the New Lenox starting pitcher, Wayne Fuchs, ran into some heavy going. The Parkers started off with four hits, two of resulting from the over-running of flyball by outfielders. Three errors also helped and when the inning was over Grant Park led 6 to 0.

Bob Fitzer went to the mound for New Lenox in the second inning and held his adversaries in check until the fifth when the Parkers scored three runs. John Lord came in and put out the fire. He gave up a run in the seventh but erased it by scoring himself in the last of the seventh. He and Blaylock both romped home on Fitzer's double to end the game.

New Lenox tied up the game in the third inning at 6-all. This was the frame when Urban hit a tremendous two-run homer. The ball carried 350 feet thru the air and was the longest drive hit at the VFW park at New Lenox this season.

Grant Park added three more runs in the fifth to go ahead 9 to 6 but New Lenox came back with four runs in their half of the inning, only to have the Parkers tie it up at 10-all in the first of the seventh. The two runs by Lord and Blaylock gave New Lenox the victory.

Birth Of Baby Highlights Training For Student Nurses

Hilda Ryssmann, 165th and LaGrange Rd., Orland Park, Betty Colby, 15212 LeClaire, Tinley Park, and Kathryn Owens, 225 Center Street, Mokena, Oak Forest Hospital Student Practical Nurses, are members of an affiliation program between Cook County's Oak Forest Hospital and St. James, a private hospital in Chicago Heights, that is making history in nursing circles and is being observed by the nursing profession.

Cooperation between the two hospitals, in the two years since the Oak Forest School of Practical Nursing was founded, has resulted in graduation of three classes of licensed practical nurses, all but a very few of whom are currently practicing in southwest suburban hospitals.

NURSE SHORTAGE
This is doing something about the often lamented shortage of auxiliary nursing personnel.

And how do the central figures in this drama, the student practical nurses, react to their role? "With the enthusiasm of an ingenuel! Whether they be a teenager, the mother of three, or a grandmother; and we have five grandmothers in this class of 19," according to Mrs. Teresa H. Bernoudy, R.N., Administrator of Nursing and Director of the Oak Forest Hospital School of Practical Nursing.

FALL CLASS
Mrs. Bernoudy and the faculty are currently interviewing candidates for the fall class. Men and women, ages 17-45, interested in the one year, state approved course, should write, in their own handwriting, to Oak Forest Hospital School of Practical Nursing, 159th and South Cicero Ave., Oak Forest, Illinois. The deadline for the next class is Aug. 15.

While all but nine weeks of the student practical nurses' training is in the medical, surgical and tuberculosis wards at Oak Forest, observing procedures in the delivery room at St. James is the high point of clinical observation, according to Mrs. Ryssmann, Mrs. Colby and Mrs. Owens; and each of the students of the four classes which have preceded them at St. James, for the nine week affiliation in obstetrics, care of the new born and pediatrics. "Placing that little bundle in the arms of his mother was a great thrill," Hilda, Betty and Kathryn said.

BEYOND PN REALM
While the nurses' role in the delivery room is beyond today's professionally accepted realm of the practical nurse, according to Sister Mary Michael, Obstetrics Supervisor, the Oak Forest students are given this opportunity to observe to provide them with the best background for post partum care of the mother.

This is primarily the position they are being trained for in the field of obstetrics. Accompanying the students on affiliation, to provide immediate supervision and instruction are Clinical Instructors Ellen O'Kane, R.N., and Corean Emmett, R.N., of the Oak Forest faculty.

"Pediatrics is far from all play and pleasure of surroundings," Mrs. Ryssmann, Mrs. Colby and Mrs. Owens said. "We are taught the importance of careful observation in the care of upper respiratory infections, in rooms where the humidity can be scientifically controlled. While helping care for orthopedic patients, we have the latest in fracture equipment to aid us.

"Another lesson in strict procedures is obtained in the pediatrics milk laboratory and the isolation ward, under the direction of Sister Mary Timothy, pediatrics supervisor.

"This milk laboratory is operated with the same rigid sterility as the formula room in the Obstetrics Department. The isolation ward, where we students obtain clinical observation in suspect infectious cases, has its own kitchen, lavatory and work room."

Number Of Feeders Up But 2 Percent Over Last Year

Farmers were feeding 5,752,000 head of cattle, including calves, on July 1. This was only 2 percent more than they were feeding a year before. These figures are from the latest government quarterly survey of cattle and calves on feed.

Reports obtained from farmers showed that they would sell about 3,297,000 head of these cattle during this third quarter. This number would be 3 percent more than was sold in the same quarter last year. We would consider this increase to be normal or less.

In the second quarter of this year, farmers sold 9 percent more fed cattle than they sold in the corresponding three months of 1960. Thus the increase of only 3 percent indicated for this quarter is comparatively small.

The biggest increases in cattle on feed this year are, for a change, not in the west. In fact, feeding in the western states is down 3 percent. The biggest increases are in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Illinois and Indiana.

The weights of cattle on feed this summer are somewhat different from those of a year ago. There is an increase of about 10 percent in the number of steers in the 700- to 900-pound bracket and a similar increase in weights over 1,000 pounds. There is also a small increase in numbers of heifers weighing over 700 pounds. Numbers of heifers and steers weighing less than 700 pounds are down 6 percent.

Beef output was about 5 percent larger in the first half of this year than in the same period of 1960. Other price depressing factors were the business recession and the flood of competition from broilers. The only price-supporting item was a shortage of pork, down 5 percent from last year.

As a result of the bearish forces, prices of Choice steers averaged about $2 a hundred pounds lower in the first half of this year than in the first half of 1960.

We have reasons to expect considerable price improvement during the remainder of this year. Beef output will be only moderately larger than it was a year before. The increase may be around 3 percent, and it will be offset by an increase in population and by greater consumer buying power.

Population has increased nearly 2 percent in the past year. About 1 percent more people have jobs now than were working a year ago. Average weekly earnings of those at work are up 2 to 3 percent. Competition from broilers is expected to ease off, though supplies still may exceed those of 12 months before.

Bearish factors in the cattle market will be increasing supplies of pork and turkey. The spring pig crop was up 7 percent. Farmers may bunch marketings of hogs in October or early November. The supply of turkey may be 20 to 25 percent larger than it was last year. This will be hard on the market for beef in the holiday season.

Prices of choice steers at Chicago averaged $25.56 a hundred pounds in the last half of 1960. They should do no worse than $24 in the last half of this year. In order to average that, prices would have to rise to $25 or higher by the end of the year.

Final 2 Week Day Camp Class Aug. 7 To 18

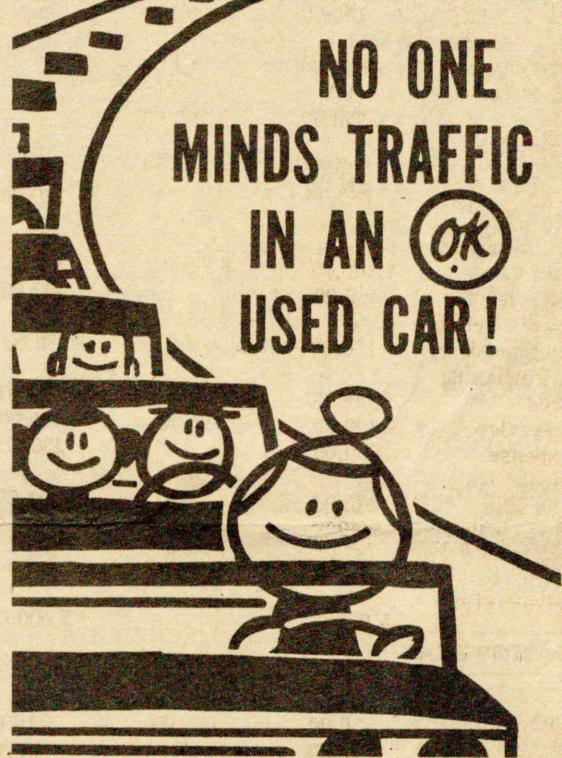

Only eleven days remain to the start of the final period of the Palos-Orland YMCA's 1961 day camp season which runs for the two week period August 7-18.

The day camp is conducted at Spears Woods, near 87th Street and La Grange Road with daily instruction or recreational swimming at the West Suburban YMCA in La Grange.

Busses or station wagons are used to transport the youngsters to the day camp site, the pool and return. Pickup points, to date, for the final camping period are: District #128 school Palos East school, Palos Central school and Orland Park Little League field. Additional stops can be added if four or more children enroll from a given area.

Additional information and registration forms are available from the "Y" office in the Jewel Annex in Palos Heights.

Federal travel regulations for employees still allow expenses for "feeding and stabling horses."

Hold Funeral

For Sister Of

N.L. Woman

Funeral services were conducted Saturday, July 15 from the Baskerville Chapel to the Nelson funeral home at Holdridge, Nebraska for Mrs. Nannan A. Carlson, 79 year old sister of Mrs. Thelma Jensen of 1112 North Vine street, New Lenox, with whom she made her home for the past 18 months. Mrs. Carlson was born in Sweden and lived most of her life in Nebraska before coming to New Lenox. Her husband preceded her in death in 1940.

Bring Up Bowling Alley Zoning For Second Time

The question of permitting establishment of a bowling alley and bar at the junction of Spencer road and U. S. 30 will come before the county board a second time when that body meets July 31 in the courthouse at Joliet.

The request for such zoning failed to muster enough votes to pass when it came before the county board June 12. Since that time the case was re-filed with the county zoning board and again that group gave it approval.

The latest hearing was conducted by the county zoning board of appeals in the Rock Island station at New Lenox Island station at New Lenox. Asst. Supt. Donald D'Amico of Lincoln-Way high school and five members of the high school board, plus owners of adjacent property appeared to protest against approval of the petition for re-zoning which was filed by Walter Ruthenbeck, owner of the property.

Ruthenbeck asked for a B-3 classification, which would permit the erection of bowling alleys, and a B-2 classification which would permit the sale of liquor on the premises.

The Lincoln-Way high school board is not opposed to the bowling alleys but it is opposed to the establishment of a bar there. It hopes to keep U. S. 30 free of saloons and bars between Wolf road and New Lenox.

Dwight Davidson, proprietor of Davey's Lanes at New Lenox would operate the proposed alleys at Spencer rd. and Route 30. He contends that unless he can operate a bar in conjunction with the bowling the income will not be sufficient to pay-off the venture and show a profit. It was said that the proposed bowling establishment represents an investment of $450,000.

Also losing out at the hearing before the zoning board of appeals the Lincoln-Way board and other objectors plan to file written objections with the county board. When such written objections are filed in a petition that has been approved by the zoning board of appeals it must be approved by three-fourths of the members of the board. There are 42 members on the Will county board and for a challenged zoning matter to pass 32 votes are necessary.

On the previous occasion when the same case was before the county board 14 members voted to deny the petition so that it failed of passage.

Attorney Scherill Weichbrodt represented the high school board at the hearing and Attorney George Sangmeister appeared in behalf of objecting property owners, Donald Wise is the attorney for Ruthenbeck.

There were 13 objectors at the hearing and 12 others who were in favor of the zoning change who attended the hearing. Harold Bailey, commander of the VFW post at New Lenox, said the veteran's group joined with the school in protesting the establishment of a bar in the bowling alleys.

Also heard and approved at the New Lenox hearing was a petition by John Langland for an R-1 classification for land on the south side of U. S. 6 on the east edge of Marley. It is planned to build a nine-hole golf course there. A B-3 classification is sought for a 400-foot section intended as a clubhouse site. Attorney Donald Tracy appeared for the petitioner. There were no objections filed.

PATRICIA MURPHY

Mokena Girl Will Attend FHAConclave

A Mokena girl, Patricia Ann Murphy, has been selected by the Lincoln-Way high school chapter of Future Homemakers of America as delegate to the annual state leadership conference which began this week at East Bay Camp, Bloomington.

Patricia, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Murphy, is a senior at Lincoln-Way and is president of the FHA chapter there.

In addition to being appointed to two committees, planning chapter finances and increasing chapter member participation, Patricia also is to serve as one of the buglers.

The Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of students studying homemaking in Junior and Senior High Schools. The Illinois Association has a membership of 28,460 members in 590 chapters. At least 590 delegates will attend the Conference.

The five day Conference, planned and carried out by the teenagers themselves, will give chapter delegates opportunity to exchange ideas with FHA'ers from other Illinois chapters. The theme for the Conference, "Miss FHA - Mrs. America" is planned to help delegates further develop leadership abilities and to find ways of furthering local chapter development.

Miss Catherine A. Carter, Springfield, is State Adviser and Margaret Phillips, Homelaking Teacher, High School, Carthage, is the State Sponsor.

Queen Contest For Silver Centennial Is Now Open

A queen contest open to all girls in Will county, from 17 years of age up, is planned as part of the county's 125th anniversary celebration.

First prize will be a trip to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., for the queen and an escort of her choice. She may spend a week at the Florida town or may limit her stay there to three days and then fly on to Nassau for a three-day stay in the Bahamas. All expenses will be paid, including allowance of spending money.

The next 10 girls in the finals will share in merchandise awards totalling about $1,000 in retail value.

According to Mrs. Beverly Long, Feenan, queen contest chairman, herself winner of the title of Miss Illinois in a Jaycee beauty contest about 12 years ago, the event will be a popularity type of contest.

"Intelligence, popularity and an active, ambitious and energetic personality will undoubtedly supersede beauty alone in attaining the final top ranking positions," Mrs. Feenan said. A reception for all candidates is planned for Aug. 1 at the Woodruff hotel, Joliet. All of the rules and regulations of the contest will be announced at that time.

In the meantime young women interested in entering should send her name, address, telephone number and a picture of herself suitable for publicity to the Will County 125th Anniversary Headquarters, P. O. Box 858, Joliet or bring it to headquarters in the Rialto building, Chicago and Vanburen streets, on or before July 31. Further information may be obtained by telephoning headquarters at 726-4291.

The queen will be presented each night at the pageant spectacular, "Where There's A Will," to be staged in the Joliet Memorial stadium, West Jefferson St. She is to be official hostess at all of the important affairs in conjunction with the celebration and ride on her own float in the parades.

A professional team will have charge of the pageant. Some 1,000 persons are needed to take part in this review of Will county's history. Costumes will be furnished and there will be no lines to learn, it was stated.

Conducting Survey On Need For Hospital Here

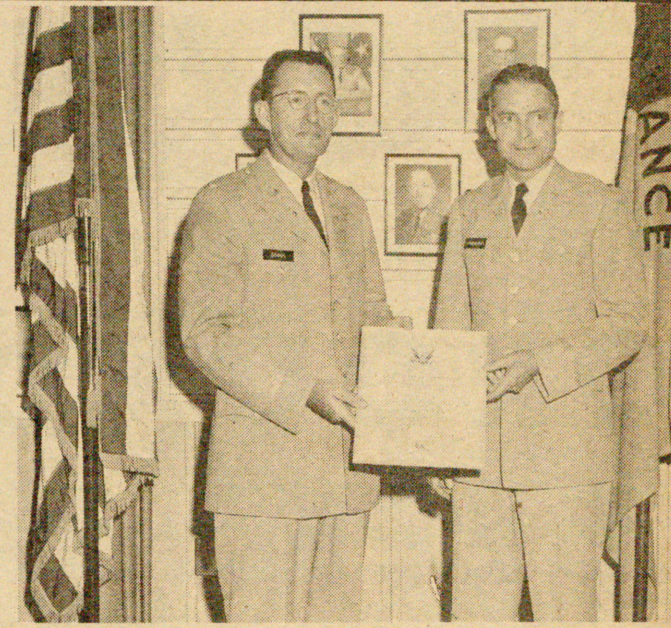

A survey is being conducted in this area to determine the needs for the establishment of a hospital, the number of beds which would serve the surrounding communities and what would be the most central location.

The survey is being conducted by a committee of members of the Tinley Park Bettenhausen Memorial, with the cooperation of the American Medical Association and Sears Roebuck Foundation.

In an area which comprises about 40,000 persons, the survey will be made by personal contact to the homes of about 10 per cent of the population. Among the communities where the survey is being conducted are Tinley Park, Kimberly Heights, Fernway, Oak Forest, Orland Park, Arbury Hills, Country Club Hills, Palos, Palos Heights, and Frankfort.

The questions which will be asked will aid greatly in determining the exact needs of a hospital and the location which would best serve these communities. The survey will be conducted until Aug. 11.
